HOLISTIC NURSING CERTIFICATE

www.PacificCollege.edu

Our curricula are guided by the core values, scope, and standards of nursing practice of the:

- American Nurses Association (ANA)
- National League for Nursing (NLN)
- American Academy for Colleges of Nursing (AACN) 2021 Essentials
- Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN)
- American Holistic Nurses Association (AHNA)
- American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC)
- American Holistic Nurses Credentialing Center (AHNCC)

WHY HOLISTIC NURSING?

Across the U.S., patients are increasingly seeking out natural, evidence-based solutions, leading health practitioners to offer care centered on holistic healing and integrative medicine.

The philosophical and scientific evolution in the healthcare industry is driving demand for nurses skilled in providing alternative and holistic treatments to help patients achieve spiritual, emotional, and physical balance.

Pacific College's holistic and integrative nursing programs aim to reconnect you with your purpose for being a nurse, and inspire you to promote much needed shifts in healthcare for the health and well-being of all!

Your patients and their loved ones are demanding these changes!

INNOVATIVE CURRICULA

PCHS' nursing programs are uniquely designed to blend rigorous nursing education with a personalized, patient-centered approach. In addition to actively preparing for licensure or certification exams, PCHS students are offered unique classes such as Modalities of Health (NR424), Psychoneuroimmunology (WS423), Nurses as Facilitators of Healing (NR301c), and Leadership in the Delivery of Healthcare (NR405e).

Nursing has always been an art and science emanating from a caring-healing framework. Today, healthcare is being compelled to shift from a reactive, disease-oriented paradigm to one that honors traditional medicine, as well as integrative healing modalities, wellness, and prevention.

Experience personal and professional growth while leading a deeply transformative movement!

PACIFIC COLLEGE'S ONLINE EDUCATION EXPERIENCE

Pacific College of Health and Science has been at the forefront of online education in each of the professions it represents. Forgoing what at the time was standard online education, i.e., PowerPoint slides, reading assignments and online forums (in other words, boring and uninspiring), Pacific College embraced live, synchronous and asynchronous, online delivery to replicate the closeness and camaraderie of the on-site educational experience, all while providing the convenience of online education. Our teaching methodologies are innovative, experiential, co-creative, effective, and engaging. Students and faculty see and hear each other, share their thoughts and assignments, consider real-world issues, and work in groups in real time from the comfort of their home or office.

Pacific College can achieve such outcomes because its online team includes not only the widest variety of subject matter experts, but also specialists in online instructional design who work closely with faculty members to ensure the best online educational experience.

All classes at Pacific College apply the most relevant and current tenets of adult education theory:

1. Adult learners are self-motivated, goal-driven, self-directed and accountable in learning.
2. Adult life experiences contribute to learning and enrich the classroom experience.
3. Adults learn best by applying the information they need to learn.
4. Adults need to see the relevance of the knowledge being delivered.

All students have access to the college's extensive electronic library resources, including the Cochrane Library of systematic reviews, the ProQuest Ebooks Central and Nursing and Allied Health databases, plus AltHealth Watch, CINAHL, Medline with full text, and a significant selection of ejournals through EBSCO Host. All these resources can be accessed through the search box at the top of the library's web page. Articles that are not available as full text can be requested through InterLibrary Loan (ILL).
